Participants	35- 40 attended

The React.js Beginner Workshop was organized by the NeuroOnyx Club on 04 January 2026 from 3:00 PM to 5:00 PM via Google Meet and was attended by approximately 35–40 students. The session was conducted by Mr. Huzaifa Ansari, Technical Team Member of the NeuroOnyx Club, with the objective of introducing beginners to React.js and modern frontend development practices. The workshop covered key topics such as JavaScript basics and its limitations, JSX, React fundamentals, component-based architecture, props, state, React Hooks, and basic routing. The session was designed to be beginner-friendly, using real-world examples and emphasizing practical understanding over theory. Participants actively engaged throughout the workshop and gained clarity on core React concepts, enabling them to confidently begin React-based projects. The workshop concluded successfully and was well received, with the club planning to organize more such technical sessions in the future.
